5. Current Topics of Discussion

The Ad-Hoc Policy Sub-Committee presented the final draft of our Guidelines, to members, who approved the draft with only two corrections; it will now be presented to the City Council for their approval.

Marty Rosen reported on status of items under consideration by the General Plan Advisory Committee, including re-evaluation of density limitations of units not yet under construction.

Discussion of the banners proposed for the city was tabled until the January meeting.

Rob Johnson presented suggested designs for painting City of Meniffee ID on the water tower in the hills above Oasis. Rob provided pictures of three possible exposures, including the cost estimates for each one. The consensus was that the ID should include part of the city logo as well as the name in block letters, although the combined cost may exceed that of the most expensive of the three designs presented. This will be a first for EMWD, the owner of the tower, whose representative, Board Chairman Ron Sullivan, offered full cooperation. Rob Johnson will bring a further cost estimate to the November meeting. It is expected that the sign will not require repainting in less than ten years.
